GENERAL CONDITIONS

Client relationship fee

Fee for client relationship per quarter	CHF 25 ¹
---	---------------------

Bank CIC charges a simple and transparent flat-rate fee per client relationship for private clients instead of an account management fee. This client relationship fee includes the account management for all the transaction accounts (private accounts, current accounts) held under one client relationship, including foreign currency accounts and other services. Pure savings account relationships (savings accounts or investment accounts), 3a retirement accounts and vested benefits accounts, as well as pure investment accounts in connection with real estate financing are not subject to the client relationship fee.

The client relationship fee includes the following services²

- Account management fee
- Monthly account statement
- Individual transaction statements and pre-advices, without credit/debit advices for payment transactions
- Annual or semi-annual statement of assets for mandates
- Opening and closing costs
- Postage to main address
- Booking fees
- Maestro ATM withdrawals in CHF in Switzerland
- Maestro service transactions in CHF in Switzerland and abroad
- Domestic payments in CHF and EUR via e-banking

Interest rates

The currently valid interest rates can be found in the separate “Overview of range of accounts of Bank CIC” on the internet at cic.ch/account-range-cards.

Fees are charged quarterly.

Third-party fees

All fees charged by a third party, e.g. post and third bank charges, are generally passed on.

¹ For clients domiciled abroad and with a business volume of less than CHF 100000 the rate of CHF 75 per quarter generally applies. A higher fee may be charged depending on the country in question. Your relationship manager would be pleased to inform you about the individual countries.

² Additional services are not included in the client fee and are charged separately.
